

Wisconsin Volk Field CRTC

Facility and Location

Volk Field Air National Guard Base (ANGB), located in central Wisconsin, is the home of Volk Field Combat Readiness Training Center (CRTC), the 128th Air Control Squadron, and the Wisconsin National Guard Museum. Camp Williams and the Wisconsin Youth Leadership Training Center are located adjacent to Volk Field. Volk Field personnel also operate the Hardwood Weapons Range near Finley (five nautical miles north of Sprague).

Volk Field is entirely owned by the ANGB. It consists of 2,336 acres to the north of the Village of Camp Douglas. The single runway is 150 feet wide and 9,000 feet long with 1,000 foot overruns. The runway can accommodate all military aircraft and has both precision and non-precision navigational approaches along with a tower and radar approach control.

The Air National Guard CRTC at Volk Field ANGB is one of four such sites located in the U.S. More than 200 units from the Army and Air National Guard, Air Force and Air Force Reserve, Marine Corps, and Naval Reserves use the facility each year. Other users include federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies, civil air patrol, and youth organizations.

Media Sampled and Findings

Drinking Water — In 2007, two of three samples detected perchlorate from 0.12 to 0.17 ppb. Prior to 2007, three of three samples taken at Hardwood Range detected perchlorate from 0.14 to 0.17 ppb.

Appropriate Actions

Not Applicable. All samples were below the EPA and DoD Preliminary Remediation Goal of 15 ppb.